Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

We are glad to note that President Roosevelt, coming to the surface in a press session, after his submergence in Hyde Park during and after the election, does so with a smile. For the first time in six years he is smiling with millions of Republicans. His forecast of the election placed in a sealed envelope some days before the event, when revealed to the reporters last Friday, closely coincides with the actual results of the voting. He professes to see no reason to halt or modify the New Deal program during the next two years. Walking past the graveyard he whistles.

The election now being over we note that President Roosevelt will whittle down the funds allotted to WPA $275,000,000 by December 1, $250,000,000 by January 1, $225,000,000 by February 1, and $200,000,000 by March 1. In other words, the Republicans having clamored for economy will be given a taste of it and this may serve to break down their morale in Congress. Perhaps that is the reason why Mr. Roosevelt smiles so broadly. It is just possible, however, that the return to safety and sanity signalized by the revolt of so many eastern and western states against the New Deal extravagance and waste, may enable business and industry actually to reempoly those who will lose WPA jobs. In that event, the President will have to think of something else to justify a smile.

Democrats who have failed for 44 years to get within reaching distance of the state pie counter can be forgiven if they are somewhat hungry. Governer-elect Olson will have a large list of job holders who can date their allegiance from the days of the EPIC, or earlier. He is a new broom and we suspect that he will sweep very clean indeed. We doubt whether even a Republican mote will be left floating in California air. Still, considering the fact that there were 850,000 more Democrats than Republicans registered, and his victory only shows something over 200,000 majority, perhaps the new governor will take the advice of St. Paul and "use moderation in all things." After all, he might wish to see continued for a few years a Democratic regime. He might even aspire to succeed himself, as Governor Merriam did. The governor-elect talks of economy and we sincerely hope he means it. But economy measures, he must know, will not maintain his popularity with a considerable section of the people that helped elect him. He also talks of putting into effect some of the EPIC plans of production for use.

In so far as agricultural production for use is concerned we are for it. We sincerely believe that the desperate men and women and their families who have come from various eastern dust bowl and flood areas to California to find a living, should be given an opportunity to do so. If it is possible to buy and subdivide some of the large land holdings in this state, and upon it settle families with farm experience on long loan terms, we certainly believe it should be done. But the only way such an enterprise can succeed is to place it in the hands of financial and agricultural experts and leave it there, without political interference. Whether Olson will have the courage to start such an enterprise of this kind and then divorce it completely from his political fortunes, is a question that only he can answer. If he can and will, his name will be enshrined in California history.

So far as industrial production for use is concerned the story is different. Most industries require special skills. Skilled labor throughout this country is pretty well employed today. It is so scarce in Nevada County for instance, that public building projects here could not be completed without importing skilled mechanics. This condition probably holds good throughout the country in all but the more densely populated sections. So far as reports received here indicate, there has been no influx of skilled labor into California. To establish factories on a production for use basis, therefore, would seem altogether impractical, they would cost the tax payers far more than they could earn.

Most of our new population comes from farming sections in the east. If Mr. Olson can find a way to make these people self-supporting, some two or three hundred thousand of them, he will have justified the faith that the majority of Californians have expressed in him.

Nevada City and its environs have been divided into small districts to provide for a complete house-to-house canvass; no worker will have more than thirty or forty houses to call upon, so that there should be no difficulty in contacting each household during the week remaining for the drive.

BAY BRIDGE IS CELEBRATING 2ND BIRTHDAY

Two years ago at 12:30 o'clock noon, November 12, 1936, the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge was officially opened to traffic.

Since then approximately 17,800,000 vehicles, transporting more than 39,160,000 persons, have crossed the great span, Chief Engineer C. H. Purcell reported to Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly.

Up to November 1, 1938 the bridge has earned a total of $9,480,514,31 with a daily average since the span opened of 24,388 vehicles.

"In the past year," Mr. Purcell said, "the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge has stimulated transbay traffic approximately 300 per cent over the pre-bridge year 1935, and the total number of persons transported across the span would find its aquivalent if every man, woman and child in San Francisco and Alameda counties crossed the bridge 36 times. The bridge is unquestionably not only paying for itself in terms of revenue, but also in terms of business stimulation for the bay area and its surrounding territory through the time saving and convenience of its facilities.

Traffic has shown a general increase this year over last year, Mr. Purcell announced. Automobile traffic has increased 27 percent; busses 30.04 per cent; trucks 47.80 per cent and number of freight pounds 57.20 per cent. From opening date, November 12, 1936 to November 1, 11938, 16,259,399 passenger automobiles, 61,073 motorcycles and 220-779 busses have used the bridge. A combined total of 676,525 trucks and truck trailers has carried a total of 1,591,228,326 freight pounds.

The bay bridge tow service has given aid to 13,507 vehicles since the span opened to November 1, 1938, or to one out of every 1,298 cars crossing the bridge. This is an average of 18.79 per day. Lack of gasoline was the source of trouble of more than half the motorists, with 7,389 calls registered during the two year period.

There were 4,009 vehicles towed and 2,034 tires changed. The bay bridge's own fire department put out 69 vehicular fires. Calls for bay bridge services are made by motorists through the red tow calls boxes placed along both decks of the span and on the distribution structure.

Exposition traffic also provided an important item in the year's report, according to Mr. Purcell. The total number of automobiles traveling to the exposition during the year to November 1 was 76,950. Other totals include: trucks, 14,725; buses 389; motorcycles and trailers, 396. There was a total of 99,643,237 freight pounds transported to the exposition.

The bay bridge highway still remains one of the safest in the nation, with 106 accidents occurring on the span proper in the past two years out of a total of 17,534,944 vehicles crossing the bridge to November 1, 1938. This indicates that for every 165,424 vehicles crossing the span, there was one accident. One hundred and seven persons were injured in accidents on the bridge out of an approximate number of 38,576,877 persons crossing the span as of November 1.

Captain S. M. Flynn of the California highway patrol detailed to the bay bridge reports that a noticeable decrease in drunk driving, speed and reckless driving has resulted from strict enforcement of bridge traffic rules, together with the cooperation of the courts Arrests and citations are down approximately one third, Captain Flynn said.

Construction of the Bay Bridge Electric Railway Facilities is nearing completion, Mr. Purcell said, with trains expected to be in operation some time between January 1 and 15, no specific day having yet been set. The terminal building is practically completed, except for the final cleaning up ,and major construction has been finished on the entire facilities except for erection of train inspection buildings in the East Bay yard. Last minute construction will take place the night before the trains start operation when Key System tracks will be cut in at the easterly end of the bridge and Southern Pacific tracks at the 7th street connection.

PETER VOISS TO SHOW PREACHER PROSPECT SPOT

Chief of Police Garfield Robson was called at 7 o'clock Sunday evening to investigate a suspected burglary of the first floor of the city library. W. Whiting, traveling preacher and prospector whose gospel chariot has been seen recently on Broad street, summoned the officer when he thought prowlers were ransacking the building.

Whiting was waiting for the officer when he arrived and they made an investigation but found neither prowler nor any sign of looting. When questioned Whiting stated he arrived in Nevada City a few days ago and not knowing the library was closed on Sundays decided to go there to do some reading. He found the building in darkness but the basement window wide open, and summoned the officer. It was found two of the windows had been nailed shut but the third was left unlatched. The chief found a garden hose, evidently used for watering the lawn thrown just inside the window. He surmised that the window was left open so that the care taker could secure the hose, water the lawn and then hide it again.

An interesting sidelight on the man Whiting is that he is in Nevada City awaiting the arrival of an old bewhiskered prospector named Peter Voiss. Voiss, it will be remembered was headline news all over the country about two years ago when he refused to let a young dentist take a picture of himself and donkey wagon and killed him when he persisted. The killing for which Voiss was exonerated occurred near San Jose.

Whiting stated he and Voiss are good friends, he having once staked Voiss to a few meals when Voiss was hard up. He claims Voiss is to meet him here and take him to some good prospecting ground known only to the old prospector.

CALIFORNIONS TO EAT 100,000 RAISIN PIES

Californians on Wednesday will eat 100,000 raisin pies. In observance of California Raisin Day, November 16, hotels and restaurants are featuring this item on 50,000 menus. They will bake on an average two pies to serve the number of patrons represented by each menu. Raisin growers hope there will be an equal number of home made pies.

This is but a small part of the national campaign instituted to move large surpluses of prunes and raisins produced in California this year. For an entire week, the food stores of the nation have been displaying and advertising these two California products.

DISTURBED PEACE

John Luberger, accused of disturbing the peace in the Spanish Inn and the Cottage Inn a week ago, was apprehended yesterday in Marysville and brought back to lodge in the county jail. He and Albert Wear are accused of entering the two places named. While one started a fight with the bartender or some of the guests, the other is reported to have made off with a slot machine.

ALLEGED THIEF JAILED

Walter Weldon, who was the alleged companion of Nick Cori, when the latter was killed at Soda Springs a couple of months since, while engaged in an attempt to carry off the cash register of the service station at 3 o'clock in the moriing was apprehended yesterday and booked at the county jail.

Roy Swift, assayer, and Bob Kline motored to Graniteville Sunday morning on mining business.

Jim Odegaard came up from Sacramento where he is attending Junior College and accompanied his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Odegaard and daughter to San Francisco Sunday. They were met there by Oscar Jr., a student at Santa Clara college and all of them attended the Santa Clara St. Mary's (Gaels and Broncs) football game.

ELKS BASKETBALL TEAM TO PLAY AUBURN

The Nevada City Elks basket ball team will play its first game of the season on Wednesday night at the Nevada City high school gym. They will meet stiff competition from the well coached team of the Placer Junior College. There will be a preliminary game between the lighter squad teams of the two organizations.

The J. C. team appears to be a much superior team than that of the locals, but what the Elks lack in action they will make up in determination and aggressiveness. The main event commences at 9 o'clock.

MOTHER OF MRS. TONELLA PASSES

Mrs. Frances Kelley, 53 years old and mother of Mrs. Omar Tonella, passed away at the home of her daughter early this morning after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Kelley was a resident of Grass Valley but was moved to her daughter's home so that she might care for her. Besides her daughter she leaves a husband, Peter Kelley and two grand children.

Funeral services will be held in St. Canice Catholic church Wednesday morning, with Rev. Father J. P. O'Reilly officiating. Holmes Funeral Home has charge of funeral arrangements.

GRAND PATRIARCH OF ODD FELLOWS HERE

W. Belman of Redding and Grand Patriarch of the Odd Fellows Encampment, arrived in Nevada City today to make an official visit to the local encampment. After the meeting refreshments will be served in the Odd Fellows banquet hall where the meeting is to be held. The local encampment has invited the wives and lady guests of members to attend the open meeting. Thomas Haddy is serving his fifth year as chief of the local encampment. Invitations have been sent to members to attend from Colfax, Auburn, and Sacramento.

BIDS OPENED ON NOV. 26 FOR DAM AT NARROWS

Harry L. Englebright speaking before the California Hydraulic Mining Association Saturday afternoon stated that conditions are favorable for early completion of three of the debris control dams project and that the fourth will not be greatly delayed.

He revealed that the advance made here was attracting not only local and nation wide interest, but that many foreign countries with conditions similar to those existing here were also interested in the project. He predicted an early amendment of the act under which the local dams are being constructed so as to permit its application elsewhere.

Funds will be made available at intervals as needed to complete work already started, the principle of the continuing contract having been supplied by the government. This means that virtually no financial problems now exist.

Mr. Englebright praised the association's attitude in confining itself to the single idea of building the barriers. He stated that much of the success was attributable to the association's disinclination to attempt the solution of unrelated problems.

It was stated at the meeting that bids for the Narrows works will be opened on November 26. With the first letting of contract preliminary work will begin.

Work on the dam at North Fork site is now a little more than one-third completed. In a few days construction will have reached a point where flood waters will not interfere with the work of raising the face of the dam.

Proposals for work will be opened soon at the Ruck-a-Chucky site, and new plans are being considered for the Bear river works. This will entail extensive surveys, the financing of which will receive the backing and support of Congressman Englebright in Washington.

The special committee, of which P. M. Downing, vice president and general manager of the P. G. & E. is a member, will start a series of conferences in the near future.

MUSICAL TREAT FOR ROTARY CLUB

A musical treat is in store for Nevada City Rotarians at the luncheon next Thursday, according to Chairman Charles Elliott, who states that he has been fortunate in arranging for the Nevada City High School Choral Groups of 50 to 60 boys and girls to sing for them on that date. He has been able to do this through the cooperation of Rotarian and Superintendent of Schools H. E. Kjorlie. Superintendent Kjorlie considers Marian Libbey, director of the group, one of the outstanding directors of choral music in the state, and that the work of her students in A Capella chorus work has been among the highest from a standpoint of achievement. Mrs. Libbey has selected the following tentative program:

Girls chorus: The Conqueror. Autumn. The Sleigh.

Mixed Chorus (boys and girls): Vanka 'n Tanka. Cousin Jedediah. The Lost Chord.

TERM OF CIO RIOTER IN JAIL COMPLETED

Henry Yuen, who was convicted last June of rioting, and sentenced to serve six months in jail, has completed his term and was released last week. C. E. Circle, sentenced to eight months, has but about five weeks remaining. Time off is granted for good conduct. Roy Staton, Pete Zdrich and Jim Vasion are out on bail, pending decision of the appeal carried to the Appellate Court. Fines of Yuen, Circle and Vasion have been paid, but owing to legal technicalities these are also up for review by the Appellate Court. Grant Spear tried a couple of months ago and convicted was sentended to serve ten months in jail, and, as is the case with Circle, has not yet been bailed out.

DEPUTY EXALTED RULER VISITOR

Frank Reese, district deputy Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent Order of Elks for northern California made his official visit to Nevada City Lodge Friday night. He was greeted by a large attendance of local Elks and with him was Hubert Shearer, a former resident of Nevada City, who is Esquire of the Woodland lodge.

Exalted Ruler Frank G. Finnegan and the officers of Nevada City Lodge exemplified the initiatory work for the visiting officer in a most satisfactory manner. Mr. Reese delivered to the local lodge the message of the Grand Exalted Ruler and entertained them with a talk that was thoroughly enjoyed by those present. A turkey dinner was served previous to the lodge meeting.

DEATH CALLS MRS. LOTTIE SEAMAN

Nevada City was shocked and saddened at one o'clock today when it became known that Mrs. Lottie Seaman, 80 years of age, had just passed after about ten days of critical illness. She lived in an apartment over the Hogs Mine Company office, a building owned by herself and late husband many years. Her sister, Mrs. Henry Lau of Sacramento has been summoned. She was too ill herself to be with her sister at the time of passing.

Surviving this highly esteemed and honored pioneer are a brother in Three Rivers, Michigan and sister, Mrs. Lau.

Mrs. Seaman came to Nevada City as a small child and has resided here practically all her life. Although ill a great portion of her time in the last few years she always was sweet and kindly with a friendly word for everyone. The remains are at Holmes Funeral Home pending arrangements for the funeral.

Mrs. V. P. Rodgers, of Burlingame spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. H. M. Leete.

Hail - Not Heil

Senator Culbert L. Olson is Governor-elect of California. On Tuesday of last week, his duties and responsibilities as a citizen underwent a change possible only in American democracy. Prior to election day, Mr. Olson was responsible only to the members of the Democratic party, which selected him as its candidate. But now Mr. Olson is the next Governor of all Californians—responsible to all of them, Republicans as well as Democrats, conservatives as well as liberals.

As Governor of California, Mr. Olson will administer his office as he considers best for the welfare of the state. And it is the duty of all Californians to forget political differences and unite sincerely to help Governor Olson make a success of that administration—just as much so as it is the duty of citizen Olson to forget political differences and carry out the duties of his office impartially and with respect to the rights of every resident of the state.

In Germany. it is "Heil, Hitler! Heil Hitler—right or wrong!"

In California it is simply "Hail, Governor Olson!" Californians reserve the democratic right to criticize the new governor when and if they feel he's wrong. But good Californians also recognize the right of Mr. Olson—as Governor and no longer as candidate—to the sincere cooperation of all citizens in the common task of making our great state a better place in which to do business, to work, and to live. — Contributed.

Thanksgiving

Three centuries ago a handful of men and women knelt to give thanks to the Creator for having preserved them from the dangers of the forbidding wilderness and rewarded their labors with a harvest of sufficient food to carry them through the long winter ahead.

Today one hundred and thirty million Americans have cause to thank the Creator for having preserved them from the dangers of the forbidding wilderness of oppression, dictatorship, Communism and war that surround us as a raging sea surrounds a safe island—a thank Him for having rewarded our labors with comforts of living beyond the dreams of the humble Puritans.

Today, as then, thankfulness for the past conotes thankfulness for present opportunity to make for ourselves a better future. Democracy and liberty preserved give us freedom to build stronger barriers of steadfast faith against the deadly infection of foreign "isms," as preservation from savages and starvation enabled the Puritans to strengthen their rude forts and extend their hard-won food acreage.

We have clung to liberty for the common man, while whole peoules have yielded theirs. We have kept to the path of peace, while armies ravaged other lands. Most serious problems confront us—problems of labor strife, of enormous tax debts, of economic dislocation still unconquered. But we have the freedom and the will, the resources and the mechanics, to overcome all our problems. Let us be thankful.—Contributed.

MANUEL FOSTER IS CALLED BY GRIM REAPER

Manuel Faust, better known as Manuel Foster, old time resident of Nevada City, passed away in the pay ward of the county hospital Friday morning, after an illness of a little more than a month.

"Manuel," as he was affectionately known to hosts of friends during his long life in this community, was one of the early day residents of Nevada City, where he arrived in 1876, as a boy of eighteen, attracted by rumors of work to be obtained on the Nevada County Narrow Gauge R. R. construction. Finding no employment available in this direction, he worked for many years in the hydraulic mines during the hectic days of that industry, later entering the service of the old South Yuba Water Company, now part of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. He was a particular favorite of John Spaulding, the general manager of the company, who had a keen appreciation of Foster's dependable qualities. Love of the soil, and proficiency in gardening led him to seek the latter as a regular means of livelihood, and today many of Nevada City's old time gardens present mute testimony to his assiduous care in the shape of beautiful trees and the shrubs transplanted by him from the woods.

For about twenty years, he has been employed as gardener and caretaker on the premises of E. M. Rector, where he made his home in a cottage at the rear of the residence. His faithful qualities and affection for the members of the Rector family have rendered him a much endeared and privileged character to his employers.

Up to a short time ago, he seldom missed Saturday night and Sunday jaunts to the business section of town, there to visit around among his old time friends, and talk over old days. His familiar figure and cheery salutation rendered him one of the typical characters of old Nevada City whose loss will be mourned by many friends.

Manuel Foster was born about 80 years ago in the Azores Islands (Portugal) where a brother, Jose Amara di Silva, only surviving relative, now resides. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. H. Buckner at the Holmes Mortuary Chapel at 2 o'clock yesterday.

THIS AND THAT

By ROY GRIFFITHS DEETER

A BLUE AND GOLD DAY, folks, blue and gold, and warm for a change too, gosh but California has a marvelous climate. Job lot of samples if you ask us! However for the moment it really IS pretty swell-elegant. I think all the people who went a-holidaying on Armistice Day would have been grateful for a day like this, not that the sun did not shine, but cold diggity, that wind! It was hard on football fans particularly, and there were games just about everywhere. We saw the Sacramento Junior College Stadium for the first time, and were duly impressed, it is a very swank layout—wired for night games, and also equipped with a crash wall for the motor cycle races. Fine public address system too. We had the added pleasure of seeing the J. C. team soundly trounce their Chico visitors for a 20 to 0 game. The J. C. team sort of surprised us. They made some very, very nifty plays, and although not the heaviest team in the world, when they tangled their opponents stayed tackled, if you get what we mean, and they can run too, altogether it was a fne game—if only the wind had not been blowing.

While in Sacramento we did our usual little stint of snooping around. (Yes, we saw Hanna and ate an ungodly amount of her VERY superior sukiaki.) We landed at a place called The Cotton Club, and made a dash in, expecting one of those amazing negro bands, and WHAT do we find? A charming and cosily intimate bar, all done, if our eyes did not deceive us, in WHITE leather, and operated by a delightful New York ITALIAN, who's name really is Joe Cotton. We are still trying to figure out that one! Life is full of surprises.

BY THE WAY if you like Bing Crosby (and who doesn't) see "Sing You Sinners." We have never seen Bing in two movies of the same type, and this is differenter than different. Watch particularly for an Extremely clever presentation of that delightful song "Small Fry," It is so good it is worth seeing twice.

And so with this we will fold away our typewriter and hie ourselves off to plant bulbs. Why we do it we would not know—the place is matted with them as it is, but gosh they are prutty, and make Spring, WHEN it comes, better than ever. We usually plant them Armistice Day. Why- Because we have no poppies.

Cheerio, everybody!

Mrs. Don Billick has joined her husband at Washington, Nevada County. Mr. Billick is in charge of the mill at the Arctic mine.

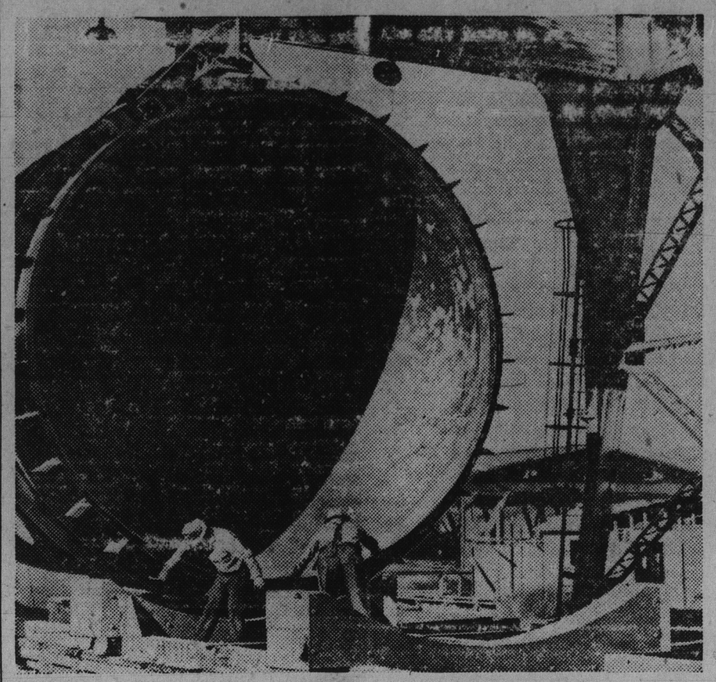
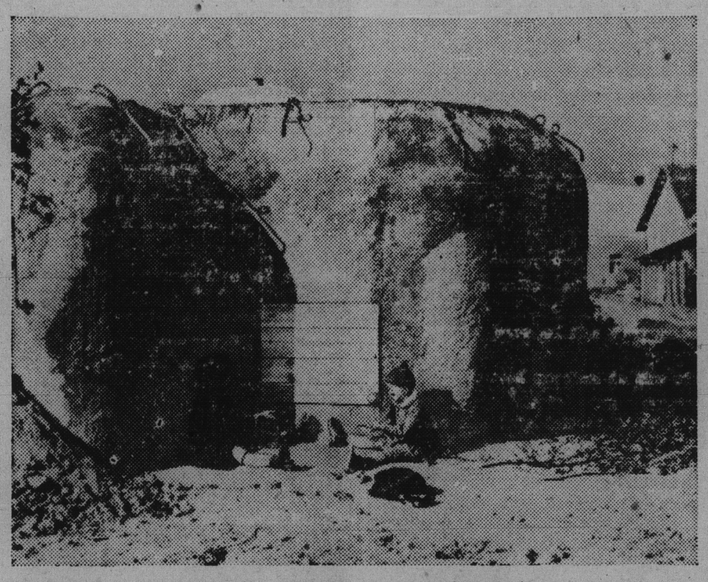
Giant Pipes Harness River



Riggers load a section of gigantic pipe for shipment to the Grand Coulee dam from the fabrication plant in the Columbia river canyon, two miles distant from the dam. Through these 18-foot tunnels for which nearly six acres of heavy steel plates will be required, the water impounded by the dam will race to the turbines.

Czech Forts Now a Playground



Children at play in the shadow of a fort in what once was Czecho-slovakia's Maginot line. The scene was photographed at Neuhaus. The forts, constructed under the direction of the French army general staff were regarded as among the strongest fortifications ever designed, and were intended to protect the Czechs until aid arrived from France.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By JEAN MARTZ

The Grass Valley Miners defeated the Nevada City Yellow Jackets with an 18-0 score. The Nevada City boys held the Miners during the first quarter, but in the second, Grass Valley scored but failed to convert. The Yellow Jackets then began playing a hard game, and held their rivals, up to the fourth quarter. Then in spite of the stubborn defense Grass Valley scored twice.

The standing line up for Nevada City was: Ends—Martin and Kopp. Tackle—Reeder and King, Guards—Williams and Stratch. Center—Bill Joyal. Quarterbacks—Eddie Doolittle. Halfbacks—Mitchell and Elgin Pingree. Full back—Hershal Lotz.

During the main part of the game the only substitutes were Tobiassen for Doolittle and Ponteicelli for Pingree when the latter hurt his ankle. In the last part of the fourth quarter, Coach Martin put in many of his players but the attempt was useless.

Bill Joyal, Bud King, Eddie Doolittle, Karl Kopp, Elgin Pingree, Hershal Lotz, and Bub Tobiassen have played their last game for Nevada City high.

Although the day was bitter cold the sidelines were packed for the game. Before the game and during the half the bands and pep teams paraded. The bands played together during the ceremony before the game, but at the half they paraded separately. The Grass Valley drill team did splendid formations and formed an Nevada City before the Nevada Pepperettes paraded led by Ellard Gates. The whole game was very colorful with all the uniforms, as the Nevada City team was given new purple jerseys and yellow shoes before the game.

Victoria Soga, Evelyn Elliott, La Verne Willard and Ginger Riley were yell leaders. Dot Hoff and Margie Keckler led songs. At the end of the game the Nevada City students sand their hymn "A Cheer for Gold and Purple."

HONOR SOCIETY PARTY

The High School Honor Society held their party Thursday night. All the members and guests came in costumes and the laughs were many. In addition to the many games, an amateur hour was held which was won by Pauline Marshall and Tom Rickard. As refreshments were being served a decorated birthday cake was presented to Miss Rector. The C. S. F. had found out that the previous Tuesday had been her birthday and presented her with the cake and a lovely corsage. The refreshments were chocolate and doughnuts.

OUT DOOR ASSEMBLY

On Thursday the student body held an out door assembly on the front steps of the high school. With the band playing accompaniment the students sang their school songs.

The Pepperettes yell leaders led yells. Mrs. Libbey and her choruses sang several numbers. Armistice day songs were sung and every-one enjoyed the assembly.

The P. G. & E. company has about 20 men employed in the Mt. Oro and Deer Creek power house section east of Nevada City clearing power line rights of way. The clearing is being made much wider than in the past in order to protect the company against fire hazards.

Miss Elaine Mobey, teacher in the Auburn schools, spent the week end at the home of her father, Judge W. L. Mobley. She is dean of women and director of physical education in the Placer union high school and Placer Junior college.

SANTA CLARA VS. DETROIT CLASH TO DRAW HOST

Two large Sacramento river steamboats, the Delta King and the Delta Queen, have been chartered by San Francisco council, Young Men's Institute, or transportation to and from the Santa Clara-Detroit football game, scheduled in the capital city stadium on November 27.

San Francisco Council has already received reservations from over three hundred San Francisco football fans who regard the contest in Sacramento as a sports event they cannot afford to miss.

A report of advance ticket sales shows that grid fans from all parts of northern California have made reservations to attend Sacramento's first major intersectional football game In many instances special chartered trains and automobile coaches will bring out of town fans to the game.

The Detroit football team will fight hard during every minute of the game in hopes of gaining national recognition when the final scores are shown on the stadium board. On the other hand, Buck Shaw's Broncos intend to wind up the season with another victory and will be constantly on their guard for surprise plays.

There are plenty of good seats available, but early reservations are advisable. Tickets may be obtained from Oscar Odegaard, chairman of the Nevada City Elks committee, which has in charge the local ticket sale.

Richard Parsons will leave this evening for a visit with relatives in Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut. He expects to be gone for several weeks.

Bill Held and Eddie Parks of Nevada City were in a party of six who enjoyed salmon fishing on Feather river Armistice Day near Biggs.

Jim Peard and Harrison Randall have been having good luck catching salmon near Gridley on the Feather river.

Mrs. Gertrude Botting, former Nevada City resident, came up from the bay region and is visiting her daughter Mrs. Walter Smith, in Grass Valley. She called on Nevada City friends Sunday.
